

Canadians are concerned about climate change

4,035 Canadians responded to the survey including parents, students and educators

73% of Canadians feel that we are experiencing a climate emergency

Only 17% of Canadians think the government is doing a good job in its actions to address climate change

72% of Canadians

acknowledge that human beings are responsible for climate change

77% of Canadians

agree that climate change poses risks to Canadians

Canadians have become more aware of the facts of climate change

67% of Canadians passed a 10-question knowledge test in 2022 compared to 57% in 2019

45% of Canadians still don't know the cause of climate change

80% of Canadians want more information

